INTRODUCTION

The 8th Senate of the Federal Republic of Nigeria 2015 – 2019 is determined to use its legislative powers and authority to deliver on citizens' expectations of government and fulfill its responsibilities of lawmaking, oversight and representation. To this end, the Senate in consultation with its membership and several stakeholders has resolved to give to itself a Legislative Agenda that would help it deliver on expectations. The development of the Legislative Agenda for the 8th Senate would be the first time that the Senate of the Federal Republic of Nigeria would be capturing and encapsulating its legislative priorities and goals in one document.

The Legislative Agenda identifies and indicates the direction that the Senate intends to take to achieve its goals over the next four years. The Senate intends to reposition itself in the mind of Nigerians as an effective, efficient and capable legislative chamber working for the Nigerian people to improve living conditions and the governance system in the country. The 2015 General Elections marked a watershed in Nigeria's democratic development and Nigerians expect to see government evolve and be more responsive to their needs and expectations.

The 8th Senate will work to improve citizens understanding of the Senate's role in the legislative process and build confidence in the ability of government to address their needs. The Senate in its work will be guided by the nation's best interest and will work cordially and in synergy with the House of Representatives and the executive arm of government to deliver on legislative goals and improved governance of the country.

The 8th Senate will take the business of legislation very seriously. Our legislative drive and activities will be targeted at reforming critical sectors of the Nigerian society and the economy and will aim to deliver development, reforms, transparency and accountability in government. The Senate will take legislative steps to combat poverty, reduce unemployment, tackle insecurity, and address long standing challenges related to the environment including desertification, erosion and pollution.

The Senate as a responsible institution will work in tandem with the House of Representatives to curtail every form of wastages in governance, entrench probity, accountability and transparency. The Senate is poised to make effective and efficient use of her legislative resources for timely delivery and passage of Bills, support government reform programmes aimed at poverty reduction, employment generation and wealth creation.

This Senate will expeditiously reform the Annual budget and economic planning process taking cognizance of the urgent need for budget implementations. A look at the annual budget from 1999 to 2014 shows lack of implementation and abandonment of projects and this had caused loss of huge funds thereby distorting and dislocating the Nigerian economy. Oversight functions as core function of the Senate will be stepped-up to ensure effective service delivery and value for money.

The Senate will also collaborate with the executive arm of government to reduce the cost of governance in Nigeria and will take every legislative measure to help achieve this. In response to citizens concerns and public expectations, the 8th Senate will be accessible and will ensure that its processes are transparent. To this end, the 8th Assembly will engage with Civil Society Organisations (CSOs) and the media and collaborate with citizens group to deliver on its legislative agenda.

The legislative needs assessment will also seek to apportion costs to the needs of the Senate and the National Assembly and determine whether resources currently existing is adequate for the running of an efficient legislative system. It will also seek to respond to the concerns constantly raised about the cost of running the legislature including wastages that result from disengaging experienced legislative staff at the end of every four-year cycle.

The National Assembly consists of multiple directorates and units including:

3. Standing and Adhoc Committees

The Senate Legislative Agenda will address the shortcomings that presently manifest in the Committee system and fortify Committees to tackle the challenges of under development by strengthening the Committees. Adherence to codes of ethics, funding, training and retraining of legislators and support staff will be instituted.

The Committees will be re-engineered to drive the legislative business and activities of the Senate with great and enhanced efficiency and effectiveness. The internal operations of the Senate and its Committees will be recalibrated to become very results-oriented.

Impediments to proper funding and efficient staffing of Committees will be removed in order to make them more effective. The Senate leadership will sanction Committees that fail to deliver on tasks and assignments. Chairmanship and membership of Committees will be constituted according to the skills, capacity and experience of Senators. This is to ensure that Committees are made up of Senators with good knowledge of the mandate of the Committees.

The Senate will standardize the operational instruments of the work of its Committees. To this end, standard formats, templates, manuals and formats for Committee work in the areas of meetings, public hearings, reporting and oversight will be introduced. The work of the Committees will be measured against the benchmarks set by these instruments. The Senate mechanism for supervision of Committees will be strengthened and strictly enforced.

The Senate leadership will conduct regular meetings with Chairmen and Deputy Chairmen of all Special, Standing or Ad-Hoc Committees to set Legislative Targets, Review performance in the attainment of Targets and ensure that the priority legislative activities of the Committees are consistent with the Legislative Agenda of the Senate.

The Senate will introduce a systematic process of training, retraining and skill acquisition by its members and staff to enable them better carry out their responsibilities. Efforts will be made to improve communication and relationship between Senators and staff of the Senate.

The Senate shall support and collaborate with legislative capacity building and efforts being implemented by the National Institute for Legislative Studies (NILS) and other National Assembly capacity-building partners and organisations.

4. Oversight Functions and Public Hearings:

Committees will be well funded to independently carry out their functions without the influences that come from ministries, departments and agencies under their jurisdiction. Oversight visits will be well planned and scheduled. Attention will be centered on periodic review and analysis of reports from ministries, departments and agencies before embarking on oversight. The Senate will make oversight functions more systematic.

The Senate will encourage Civil Society Organisations involved in budget monitoring, implementation and governance issues to contribute and partner with its Committees on oversight activities. In addition, Committees' oversight will be properly guided to avoid abuse of power.

The Senate Oversight activities will seek to ensure effective exercise of the provision of Sections 88 and 89 of the Constitution that empowers the National Assembly to investigate with a view to exposing corruption, inefficiency and waste in the conduct of government business. Other legislative instruments that authorize Senate's exercise of oversight will be invoked.

To promote legislative synergy at the National Assembly, the Senate will collaborate with the House of Representatives where necessary to achieve joint oversight and investigative visits and hearings. The Senate will as well ensure the elimination of overlap of Committee functions especially in carrying out oversight.

Committees will be encouraged to communicate effectively in their oversight functions and avoid conduct of multiple oversight activities on the same issues and involving the same officials of government. The Senate will develop needed legislative tools, templates and mechanisms to coordinate and streamline both investigative and oversight activities.

5. Ethical and Code of Conduct for Members

The Senate will seek to rebuild and restore citizens' confidence in the legislative institution by adopting far-reaching ethical codes for the 8th Senate. The Code will require that Senators:

- Maintain a high level of integrity, discipline and moral principles at all times;

6. Tracking of Bills, Motions and other Legislative Assignments

The 8th Senate shall develop an appropriate legislative mechanism to track bills, motions and delegated or subsidiary legislation.

The Senate will fast track the passage of bills and motions to curtail waste of time, energy and resources. The Senate shall proactively collaborate and partner with the House of Representatives to avoid waste in the process of the legislative business of the 8th National Assembly.

Presently, there is no defined or predetermined process of rule making, regulations and quasi legislation in the country. The abuse of the powers of making Rules, Regulations and Subsidiary Legislation by the executive arm of government will be curtailed. Appropriate mechanisms will be established to monitor all forms of quasi and subsidiary legislation to ensure that they do not contradict the principal legislation.

7. Reduction of Cost of Governance

The Senate shall evolve a more transparent and accountable system that eliminates duplication of costs and wastages in the governance process of the country in order to free funds that would help in the massive infrastructural development of Nigeria.

The subject of reduction in cost of governance has been a sensitive matter on the front burner of national issues in the polity especially with regards to the National Assembly. While much of this could be due to an underlining ambiguity in the monthly salaries of legislators and their allowances, there still persists the need to project clarity, accountability and transparency in all legislative matters and legislators' welfare.

The 8th Senate recognises the concerns raised by Nigerians about the cost of running office most especially with the economic challenges facing our nation. The Senate will be more transparent regarding all public funds spent for the purpose of paying salaries and allowances of legislators and ensure that distinction is sufficiently made between what a legislator actually earns and what is spent to run and implement legislative business and committee activities. The watchword in our financial issues will be fiscal conservatism.

Committees set up by the Executive have recommended merging and consolidation of government Ministries, Departments and Agencies to significantly reduce the cost of governance.

The Senate will take legislative measures to carry out prudent reduction of the cost of governance in various areas of our national life, including coming up with the best cost-effective regime in the 8th Senate.
