The Senate:

Notes the recent upsurge of security related challenges and the devastating loss of lives, limbs and properties that it unleashed on the nation;

Further notes the comprehensive new national security strategy that the government unfolded in December, 2019 with its very clear statement of goals, objectives and challenges that faced the nation particularly those challenges whose recent upsurge have a direct and devastating impact on the lives and safety of the people. This include:-

- i. Terrorism and violent extremism;
- ii. Armed banditry, kidnapping, militancy and separatist agitation;
- iii. Pastoralist / farmer clashes and Cattle Rustling;
- iv. Organized crime;
- v. Piracy and sea robbery; and
- vi. Cross border crimes of smuggling and illegal drugs and Fire arms trafficking;

Appreciative of the recent effort to redefine our approaches to the security challenges, it is our view that implementation strategy must be operationalized in a manner that takes a critical and intrusive review of the nature, structure and disposition of the security institutions, particularly the Police, Civil Defence, Intelligence, Customs, Immigrations, etc;

Further notes that the various local, state and regional responses to these security challenges by way of self-help initiative such as Civilian JTF, Hishba, Yausakai, Yanbanga and more recently Amotekun which are mainly expression of peoples desperation and disappointment with the failure of the state security architecture to protect them;

Opines that the current structure, operational strategies, Personnel training and disposition of these critical institutions has been outgrown by our contemporary security challenges. This is because, in the current challenging dispensation, we must prioritize the restructuring and the reorganizing those security apparatuses that shoulder the direct responsibilities of protecting the Nigerian people and their urban and rural space. This is with a view to making them more effective, responsive community integrated and people friendly. Far reaching measures and structural reforms are necessary in order to arrest the rapidly deteriorating internal security environment. The current challenges seem to have overwhelmed our security Institutions,

Accordingly resolves to:

- i. Urge Mr. President C-in-C to declare a national security emergency;
- ii. Se-up an Ad-hoc Committee to:-

- a. engage the Security Agencies and report back to the Senate;
- b. Engage the National Security Adviser on the implementation modalities of the December, 2019 national security strategies;
- c. Engage the National Security Institution to discuss their operational structures, funding, equipment and staff disposition with a view to reviewing the national security architecture to make it more responsive in tackling the myriad security challenges facing the nations and the people; and
- d. Produce a draft implementation modality/blueprint on the ways and means of tackling the current security challenges for the consideration of the Senate.
