5. Remarks by Mr Speaker
Mr Speaker made the following remarks:

Protocols:

Honourable colleagues we have come to the end of the legislative year. We will shortly adjourn for the annual recess as is the practice of this honourable House. When we return, we will do so with renewed vigour and a greater commitment to the service of the Nigerian people in whose name we assemble in this hallowed chamber, and on whose behalf, we carry out the work of the legislature.

2. It has been a remarkable year of tragedy and triumph. We have lost members of this House — friends and colleagues who served with us, and whose memories we carry in our hearts every day. Across the country, we have seen an increased spate of violence that has claimed the lives and traumatised many. We mourn those of our citizens who have lost their lives, and we pray God's grace and comfort for the families and loved ones they have left behind.

3. Through it all, the 9th House of Representatives has carried on its constitutional duty to make laws for the good government of the country. After multiple failed attempts over two decades, the Petroleum Industry Bill (PIB) has passed both House of the National Assembly and will shortly be transmitted to the President after proper harmonization with the Senator. Today, we will consider the report of the House Committee on Electoral Matters, and vote on the Electoral Act (Amendment) Bill that has been laid before us by the Committee. This is part of our continued efforts to improve our elections and ensure that democracy thrives in our country.

The stage is set and the world is watching. I encourage all members to vote their conscience informed ONLY by the best interest of the country and our people.

4. It has been mentioned to me that landmark legislation such as the Petroleum Industry Bill (PIB) and the Electoral Act (Amendment) Bill ought to have been considered using the electronic voting system in the House. While I agree with this suggestion, e-voting usually in most parts of the world is meant for single item pieces of legislation not 400 clause considerations, except on reports that contain limited number of clauses. As such, it is not ideal for this Bill.

Nonetheless, I take the point and we will make sure that the system is fully deployed in advance of our resumption.

5. On Monday, we submitted to His Excellency, President Muhammadu Buhari GCFR, the report of the Special Summit on National Security convened by the House of Representatives to seek solutions to the problem of insecurity in Nigeria. We have laid that same report before the House and have begun to implement the recommendations of the report that require legislative action.

6. The Constitutional amendment process in the House of Representatives continues apace. We have received submissions from across the country. We have conducted nationwide public hearings to seek the views of the Nigerian people so that the final product of the process reflects as much as is possible, the best expectations of our fellow citizens. As I have said before, this constitutional amendment process is unlike those that came before.

7. This time, we seek nothing less than a wholesale review of the constitution with the express intention of crafting a document that reflects the democratic ideal, and at the same time resolves those foundational conflicts of our nationhood that hinder our march to progress. The current constitution of our Federal Republic reflects our past. We need a constitution that speaks to our present and makes a better future possible. And it is our commitment in this 9th House of Representatives to deliver such a constitution.

8. This year there have been too many occasions when good faith efforts by the House of Representatives to address questions of law and regulation have been misconstrued as an attempt to perpetuate injustice against the people we serve. I am not unmindful of the fact that some of these reactions are result of years of broken promises by politicians and government. Yet, it is also evident that there are those who for profit and ambition, have devoted themselves to creating conflict, and engendering in our citizens the kind of cynicism that makes all constructive collaboration impossible.

9. Fellow Nigerians, let us take care not to give ourselves over to those who try to exploit our legitimate grievances to create chaos and disaffection. We must not heed the call of those who propose no solutions but stand ever ready to cast aspersions and insinuate the worst motives of our action. Our problems are real, and the challenges we face are significant. Those problems will not be made less real, nor will we overcome our challenges, if rather than work together in the cause of nation building, we stand in permanent opposition to one another — tribe against tribe, region against region, partisan against partisan.

10. Citizens and leaders alike have choices to make about our future, about the country we want to live in and leave to the next generation. Some of such choices will be difficult, requiring us to make sacrifices and endure difficulties. Some other choices will sometimes cause us to disagree. We must decide at this moment in time whether we are prepared to learn from and call on the lessons of our history so that we may be inspired therefrom to rise once more in defence of our values, our interests, and the dignity of all our nation's people. Let us work to re-establish in our country, the bonds of brotherhood that allow us to disagree but never to forget that in the end, through whatever may come, we are family, bound one to another, and we must look out for each other.

Distinguished colleagues, unfortunately, despite the valiant efforts of scientists who have discovered a vaccine, and notwithstanding efforts by governments and others, to make those vaccines available, COVID-19 has emerged with a new and deadly variant that threatens our world once more. We have already seen the devastation that this disease is capable of, and as such, we must not allow ourselves to be left to its mercy.

11. It is time for us now to take the same precautions of personal hygiene and social interaction that we did last year when the pandemic was at its most potent. Let us take the opportunity of this recess to speak to our constituents and provide them the tools they need to protect themselves against this deadly disease.

12. As we come to the end of this legislative period, we recognise that where much has been done, there is still a lot left to do. We are aware that though much has been achieved, there remain many challenges that task us, that require of us that we work harder, collaborate better, and make the hard decisions that are required for progress and prosperity. This recess is therefore an opportunity for members of the Honourable House to engage with constituents to understand the areas of their most pressing concerns so that when we return, we can begin to address those as a matter of the highest priority.

13. The work of the legislature never ends. Even though we will not be here in chambers making laws and advocating for our people, our attentions will still be required in our constituencies on other engagements relating to our service in this House of Representatives. Nevertheless, let us all endeavour to use this recess to spend time with our families, and for deep reflection, to examine ourselves and assess the quality of the service we have each provided this year. It is from such reflection, that we will be able to determine those areas where improvements are needed, and where we need to do better than we did in the past year. To this end, all Committee assignments except finance working on MTEF and the Internal Security that will be working on the security on our premises, are suspended till resumption.

14. Honourable colleagues, let me say once more that it is a great honour to serve as Speaker of this 9th House of Representatives. I am eternally grateful to God for the opportunity to come here each day to work alongside so many dedicated public servants who despite differences and disagreements, are willing to set aside considerations of politics and other interests, to work with one another in partnership on behalf of the Nigerian people. I salute you all, and I thank you most sincerely.

15. I wish you all a good recess. May God bless and keep you. And may God bless our Federal Republic of Nigeria.

6. Personal Explanation (Order Eight, Rule 5)

Hon. Bagos Dachung Musa (Jos South/Jos East Federal Constituency), drew the attention of the House to the pervasive impact of COVID-19 Delta variant and urged the Federal Government to activate quick response to enable citizens take precautionary measures.

Motion made and Question proposed:

The House:

Notes that Oil and Gas remain critical to the Economic Development of Nigeria and key to the implementation of budgets at all levels of Government;

Aware that on 2 February, 2019 President Muhamadu Buhari flags off the Spud-In of Kolmani River II well Drilling in Bauchi State and directed the Nigerian National Petroleum Corporation (NNPC) to extend its exploration to six basins in the Country;

Also aware that it has become imperative to ascertain the fortunes at the disposal of the Federal Government in Alkaleri Local Government Area so as to hasten the process of giving effect to the provisions of the new Petroleum Industry Bill, 2021 just passed by the National Assembly in terms of the economic benefit the host community stands to gain;

Further aware that any community from whose location oil is discovered and or produced is entitled to several extra revenues which is special attention for the sake of its environment, infrastructure and health impact;

Diserous of the need for the people of Bauchi to start benefiting from the 13% derivation being the host community incentives provided for by the law;

Informed that oil exploration in Bauchi State commenced since 2018 and up till today it is still ongoing but no official report on whether the exercise is a success or not and Nigerians, particularly the people of Bauchi State who are to benefit from the 13% derivation are anxiously waiting to witness the economic benefit;

Recalls that it is the statutory function of the parliament to enact Law in any sector of the economy and take measures in order to create an environment for certainty, confidence and assurance for equitable treatment of the people;

Resolves to:

Mandate the Committee on Petroleum Resources (Upstream) to invite the Nigeria National Petroleum Corporation to give comprehensive representation on the level of work in the oil exploration currently undertaken in Alkaleri Local Government Area of Bauchi State and the successes recorded (Hon. Yakubu Shehu Abdullahi — Bauchi Federal Constituency).
